

The Quran is all the education we need — as far as religious education is concerned

PHOTO COURTESY OF GALOLHU BLOG in its article on “Sheikh” Shaheem’s intent of opening “mental rehabilitation centers” to offer “advice and counseling” to extremists who include Bloggers, Gitmos, Other Islamic Sects, and basically any man, woman, child, young or old, who refuse to bow down to the Wahhabi-Salafist ideology.

Our Photo Caption: “Professor” Shaheem resumes classes, to provide “lectures” to Skinheads of all sorts of Extremism, after recovering from injuries the genius-of-a-sheikh sustained while successfully testing the Shoe Bomb he invented:

Why are some people spreading paranoia in the society, deliberately or not?

Why is it so hard for some people to understand that even for Islam to thrive, because it is ALSO a religion, the ONLY option is a democratic and secular platform?

The Quran is all the education we need — as far as religious education is concerned.

We have two choices:

1) Learn Arabic so that we can understand the Quran in the way it’s meant to be generally understood as a layman — as God intended because He had no need of these meddling sissies called “sheikhs”...

If the Majority of Maldivians agree on that, such an education should be started in preschool because it is now understood that children pick up languages more easily in that age.

The other choice is:

2) Come up with a translation of the Quran translated into Dhivehi as meant to be understood generally by a Maldivian layman, in the context of thousands of years of culture and evolution of the Maldivian “race” or “species” ...

As a relative told me, “Why should CHSE students have Islam and Dhivehi as compulsory subjects? Already they have a huge load of work. Why should the State make it a condition that a Maldivian should know and therefore ‘memorize’ each and every date an ‘Islamic’ war was said to be fought just because it is ‘history’. Isn’t history written by the Winners? And why should this ‘knowledge of dates’ matter as far as getting a job for my child is concerned?”

I know I would never send any of my children to any crappy Maldives schools under this crappy education system where you are actually brainwashed NOT to think.

I feel so sad to see my young relatives suffer... If they don’t have a backbone problem first!!!

In fact, if I become the real Islamic (no inverted commas there, this time) Affairs Minister, I would force all media stations to only show the recitation of the Quran in Arabic and/or recitation of Quran and its translation in Dhivehi and/or English. That is all the air-time we need for this so-called “religious education” which is actually “brainwashing” into “submission”. The Adhaalath “sheikhs” are only deluding you... They are actually usurping your Zakaath (alms) by claiming to set up a religious TV channel or station or something or other... Anyway why should they use our Zakaath money to set up a channel to spread the Salafist propaganda as the Adhaalath is a political gigolo wearing only religion as his loincloth...

People like Ali Rameez are not stupid. They know what they had to do to be where they are now — with a DEVOUT crowd. Awesome sense of power, isn't it...

They are actually intellectuals and they know that a population without a science education will absorb whatever thought-control rubbish you feed it, as long as the 'experimental guinea pig' is kept happy with DELUSIONS OF BLISS, eternal or not, I honestly don't know...

So they will try to brainwash your children, especially before they reach 3 years, because that's the most sensitive time when the brain is developing. That's why they target to forcibly change the National Curriculum so that the "mind virus" otherwise known as "organized religion" (not the non-political, personal religion) can be infected during not only preschool age but reaching to adolescents who undergo A Level programs (Soft, be wary of this!). Read this if you must: Babies know the difference between good and evil at six months, study reveals

Adolescence is when the growing mind expands and starts ABSORBING Information and Knowledge about the Universe around us and what's in us. By denying them from becoming who they are (real functional normal human beings), the Wahhabis infect the logic software of the brains with the "virus of the mind". Just imagine: feed a 'logic-calculating' computer the following equation and ask to justify it:  $1+1=3$ . The processor will go into overdrive and crash.

This so-called "efforts to abolish Islam" from Maldives is an allegation and accusation that is meant to deceive the Maldivian public into believing that the Maldives State, for some inexplicable reason, is acting against the interests of the State which is preservation of Islam in its true form. Nowhere does the Maldives Constitution say that the State is obliged to give any special protection to Salafism and Wahhabism than any more than the State is obliged to provide the same protection to the minorities of Buddhists, Christians, Hindus, Zoroastrians, Fire-Worshippers, Goths, Luciferians, Satanists, etc, who still belong to the same Maldivian "race." As to their varying sexualities and gender, let's not even go there, because I'm not interested in the West's fanaticism to always quantify everything by creating labels as 'gay', 'trans' or whatever.

By abolishing all programs on which these so-called "sheikhs" and "theologians" (the so-called "scholars") appear, we can avoid paying State salaries to basically a bunch of lazy bums who were too proud of themselves to get up their asses and actually make an effort to tap their inherent intelligence and educate themselves and engage in some worldly creative work that would be beneficial for them and society.

Instead, they chose to be something like this:

Your ambition: To become a PhD in The Little Mermaid. After becoming a "sheikh" in the history and etiquette of the Merpeople, they could spend hours and hours "lecturing" on the "science" behind the hydraulics of the mermaid's tail... and so on...

*a smug smile appears on my face at this point so I better sign off before I insult anyone further LOL...*

Hey, pass me that bong, James James David!
